

of skyrocketing energy costs, it's once again time to look at alternative sources to combat this problem.

China has plans to build 40 nuclear power plants in the next 15 years, investing approximately $50 billion in these reactors.

The United States has not licensed a nuclear power plant in 30 years, while the current congressional leadership refuses to even consider the notion of nuclear power as a viable alternative energy source.

Of course we don't have to leave my home State of Ohio to find additional ways to increase domestic energy production. In northwest Ohio, alternative energy is abundant with the only wind turbines in the State, solar panel production, and coal liquefaction technology all adding to our energy production.

Whether we look at other countries, or in our own backyard, we must embrace alternative energy sources as one way to reduce our dependency on Middle Eastern oil and combat skyrocketing energy prices.

HOUSING FORECLOSURE CRISIS

(Ms. KAPTUR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. KAPTUR. Madam Speaker, Federal Chairman Ben Bernanke says Congress should do more to address the housing foreclosure crisis. I agree.

However, let me respectfully suggest to the Fed Chairman that he, too, can do much more to help. Let him use his considerable power to bring to the table the very big banks that aren't coming to do foreclosure workouts at the local level. They just happen to be the firms the Fed has been rewarding handsomely by injecting billions and billions of dollars to rescue them. You know the names: Citigroup, J.P. Morgan Chase, Bank of America, Wachovia.

Firms like Countrywide don't even show up when borrowers at the local level try to renegotiate their loans. Yet, the Federal Reserve has been rewarding them by putting them on their list of select primary dealers. Fancy that.

So, Mr. Bernanke, let me help you out. Here's a list of the firms you can invite right now. They're not responding to Ohioans witnessing foreclosure: Countrywide, Chase Mortgage, Citifinancial, GMAC, HSBC, Sovereign Bank, Indy Mac Bank, Popular Mortgage, Nova Star, Saxon Mortgage Services, Option One Mortgage, EMC Mortgage, ASC Servicing, HomeEq, Wilshire, Nationstar, Equifirst, Litton Loan, Flagstar.

Let's be honest. These mega firms are holding the levers of power over our homeowners. It's time the scales of justice had balance restored on behalf of our people.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Members are reminded to address their remarks to the Chair.

HOUSTON POLICE OFFICER RODNEY JOHNSON

(Mr. POE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. POE. Madam Speaker, Houston Police Officer Rodney Johnson was the best of the best, but he was killed by the worst of the worst.

An illegal outlaw from Mexico, Juan Leonardo Quintero-Perez, shot Officer Johnson four times in the back of the head after a routine traffic stop. Officer Johnson would still be alive today, enjoying time with his five children and his wife, Joslyn, a fellow Houston police officer, if our border was protected.

This lawless trespasser had already been deported for indecency with a child in 1998, but he sneaked across the border again to continue his crime spree. After coming to Houston, Quintero finally confessed to murdering one of Houston's finest.

Today, Quintero is on trial for capital murder in Houston, but the Mexican government, rather than pay restitution to the Johnson family, is paying for the battery of defense lawyers representing this cold-blooded cop killer.

Mexico is meddling in the U.S. court system, but Juan Quintero cannot miss his judgment day and his day with his Maker, because justice is what we do in America, even if the Mexican government doesn't like it.

And that's just the way it is.

BUILDING A BETTER NATION

(Mr. KAGEN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. KAGEN. Madam Speaker, last week the Labor Department reported that for the fourth month in a row our jobs are going south. We are losing more jobs, even as the middle class is struggling just to keep their heads above water.

We're in this mess because the Bush administration and its followers have failed to establish a fiscally responsible budget policy and are continuing to borrow and spend our Nation into the poor house.

In response to this downturn, Democrats are taking action. Today, we're holding an economic summit to determine how best to restore our ailing economy. Also this week we're going to begin to put together a second economic recovery effort directed at rebuilding America's infrastructure, first by enacting a housing package to help establish the floor in the housing market, and then we intend to invest in higher wage construction jobs that will stimulate local economies nationwide.

I hope my colleagues in both parties will join us in this effort to build a better Nation here at home and that, furthermore, the President will understand how important this is and sign the bill we intend to enact.

WASTE TO ENERGY

(Mr. PITTS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. PITTS. Madam Speaker, yesterday I visited a waste-to-energy facility in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, and concluded, once again, Lancaster County gets it right.

This facility is a great example of the kind of ingenuity that we need to put America on a path toward energy independence, and it is disposing of waste at the same time. The plant burns solid waste at very hot temperatures, using the heat to turn water into steam which is used to turn a turbine and create electricity.

Ninety percent of that electricity is sold to the local electric utility. Metals, glass and plastics are recycled out in the process.

This process is saving pollution from ending up in the Chesapeake Bay. It's saving land by reducing the need for landfills, and it's creating clean energy in the process.

One ton of solid waste has the energy equivalent of 1 barrel of oil. Last year, over 342,000 tons of waste were processed at the facility, and I'm told that something like 30,000 tons of trash a day is trucked out of New York City to landfills.

Maybe our State and community leaders should take a cue from the people of Lancaster County as we search for more energy to meet our needs.

RECORD HIGH GAS PRICES REQUIRE ACTION, NOT BLAME

(Mr. BRALEY of Iowa asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BRALEY of Iowa. Madam Speaker, the price of gasoline is now averaging over $3.60 a gallon. House Democrats are working to provide some relief, but we face stiff opposition from the White House and congressional Republicans who have opposed every single energy bill that we have brought to the floor this year. When it comes to energy, the GOP doesn't want to work with us. They simply want to say "no."

When Democrats voted to repeal unnecessary subsidies to big oil companies so we could instead invest in clean, renewable energy, Republicans overwhelmingly voted "no." It didn't matter that the legislation would reduce our dependence on foreign oil, lower prices at the pump and create new, green jobs. They still preferred the status quo.

When Democrats passed the Energy Price Gouging Act to punish those who take advantage of these record prices by increasing them even further, Republicans overwhelmingly voted "no."

Madam Speaker, Democrats understand the hardship that families are facing every time they go to the gas station, and that is why we've passed six bills that would provide real relief to consumers.

It's time Republicans realized that "no" is not an energy strategy.

KYLA BASS

(Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DAVIS of Kentucky. Madam Speaker, I rise to recognize Ms. Kyla Bass of Florence, Kentucky. On February 13, 2008, Kyla distinguished herself when her father, Patrick Bass, a Desert Storm veteran, suffered a seizure.

In a display of courage, maturity and composure that far exceeded her 10 years of age, Kyla responded to the emergency quickly and effectively. She administered first aid and then called her mother and grandfather, while simultaneously caring for her younger brother and two cousins who were at home at the time of the emergency.

Kyla attributes her quick thinking and first aid proficiency to the skills she learned in American Heritage Girls Troop KY0727. American Heritage Girls is dedicated to developing young women through service to God, family, community and country.

In recognition of Kyla's heroism, American Heritage Girls has created the Angel Among Us award, which Kyla will receive during the regional awards ceremony on May 16. Her self-control during this event is impressive. Kyla, we're proud of you. Madam Speaker I ask you to join me in commending Kyla Bass for her outstanding actions and character.

"MISSION ACCOMPLISHED"?

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. May 1, just last Thursday, was the fifth anniversary of the famous words, "Mission Accomplished." What a tragedy, when April was the most deadliest month in Iraq that we have seen in a number of months.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to ask the administration to recognize that this unending war must end. And in the backdrop of a newspaper article that suggests that the administration is looking at a $500 million development of hotels and restaurants and amusement parks in Baghdad, I ask the administration, do they get it? That's why it's important for us to support an amendment in the emergency supplemental that says we will bring our troops home with honor. This will go into effect one month after this legislation is passed.

Seven months, deadliest, April, troops dying. This kind of war cannot be an unending war. And so we refuse to give more blank checks to Iraq. We thank our soldiers on the front lines of Iraq and Afghanistan, the war we should win. Bring our troops home with honor. Vote for this amendment. And let's not focus on a $500 million development of hotels and restaurants in Iraq—what are we thinking about?—Let's bring the troops home!

AS JOB LOSSES CONTINUE IN APRIL, DEMOCRATS CONTINUE TO WORK TO STIMULATE THE ECONOMY

(Mr. PALLONE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PALLONE. Madam Speaker, as the first quarter of 2008 ended, it was clear that things are not getting any better for American families struggling to make ends meet. Americans continue to face higher costs for basic necessities, millions of families have lost their homes due to the troubled real estate market, and several million more Americans are uninsured.

Last week, we also learned that April was the fourth month in a row that our economy lost jobs. With 20,000 jobs lost last month, our economy has now shed 260,000 jobs so far this year. That's particularly troublesome considering that experts say the economy must create 150,000 jobs a month just to keep up with the number of Americans entering the job market.

All of these red flags show why it is so important that we worked together in a bipartisan fashion earlier this year to pass the economic stimulus package. As a result of that action, 150 million taxpayers began receiving rebate checks last week. That was a good start, but more needs to be done.

Madam Speaker, with so many Americans struggling and the bad economic news continuing to mount, we urge the President and the Republicans to join us to pass a second economic stimulus package.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. WALSH of New York. Madam Speaker, I move that the House do now adjourn.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion to adjourn.

The question was taken; and the Speaker pro tempore announced that the noes appeared to have it.

Mr. WALSH of New York. Madam Speaker, on that I demand the yeas and nays.

The yeas and nays were ordered.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 8 of rule XX, this 15-minute vote on the motion to adjourn will be followed by 5-minute votes on approval of the Journal; and the motion to instruct on H.R. 2419 offered by the gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. RYAN).

The vote was taken by electronic device, and there were—yeas 152, nays 255, not voting 24, as follows:
